I'm going to swim right to the bottom, said Emily, boasting.

I can't do that, replied James. You know the water stings my eyes.

Wear your goggles then, suggested Emily.

James thought for a while. They hurt my eyes a bit, he said. Maybe I should get some new ones.

These boxes show a spoken way and a written way of saying the same thing. The spoken way is hard to understand. For example, when someone says "What is this?" you will need to be looking at what the person is pointing at. Can you match the spoken and written words that mean the same thing?

What was that?

Have you finished?

Look what I can do!

Do you want to look at this?

Take this over there

Is this working?

May I have that?

What's that for?

Have you finished the book you were reading?
I can stand on my head.
I didn't understand the last thing you said.
Could you explain what the blue box is for?
Would you like to read this magazine?
Please could you move this chair to the pile?
Please could I have the paper you're going to throw away?
Is the laptop working?
